HOW TO PLANT TULIPS

Tulip bulbs are planted in the fall and early winter. The general rule is to set them 4 to 6 inches deep, and about 5 to 8 inches apart. However, they can be planted as deep as 10 to 12 inches if you care to go to that much trouble. The deeper you plant them the better they will do, particularly when you intend to leave the bulbs in the ground for several years. An average good garden soil with some commercial fertilizer worked in it before planting, will produce excellent blooms. It is not necessary to dig up the bulbs every year. They may be left in the ground as long as they bloom well. However, many gardeners do follow the practice of digging the bulbs after they have bloomed and the foliage starts to turn yellow, storing them during the summer and replanting them in the fall.

WHEN SPRING COMES TO CARROLL GARDENS

This partial view of our plant and display gardens shows only a few of the more than 150 varieties of Tulips that we test in our own garden before offering them to you. Visitors to Carroll Gardens this spring expressed their delight at the amazing varieties, the huge blooms and the glorious colors in this display. The bulbs used to produce this magnificent garden were bought from one of Holland's leading growers, and it is these same varieties that are now offered to you in this Catalog.

OUR GUARANTEE

Practically all bulbs offered are imported from Holland, and are top size and first quality. You may return any that appear unsatisfactory upon receipt. We guarantee the bulbs and plants we send you to be true to name and to reach you in fresh, healthy condition. Any items that prove to be not as represented will be replaced or your money refunded.

TERMS

Unless you have established credit with us, send cash, check or money order with your order. Because of the perishable nature of the material, no C.O.D. orders can be accepted. To establish credit, send two financial references. No refunds or replacements made unless claim is entered in writing within five days after receipt of goods.

After your order has been placed, please do not ask us to change or cancel it. During the shipping season several thousand orders are handled, and it is impossible to look for any one particular order without spending hours of time.

TRANSPORTATION

We prepay transportation charges on orders of $3.00 or more if East of the Mississippi. West of the Mississippi, add 10% to the amount of the order. On all orders of less than $3.00, add 35c for packing and postage.

Note: Certain orders for heavy shrubs, trees, etc., must be shipped by Parcel Post or Express Collect.

"VISITORS WELCOME"

That sign is always out at Carroll Gardens. We welcome your visit and urge you to come at any time to see our display grounds and nursery. We are located on U. S. Route 140, at Fairground Hill just south of Westminster, Maryland, only 28 miles from the city of Baltimore and 22 miles from historic Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

IF YOU HAVE A PROBLEM

The free booklets offered on the order form are designed to help you plan and care for your garden. If, however, you have particular questions regarding plant selection on which you want advice, write us and we will do our best to assist and advise you. Frequently we can suggest varieties not listed in the Catalog.

The enormous flowers of the new Giant Breeder Tulips are far superior to the older varieties. They average 30 to 36 inches in height, with much stronger stems, huge flowers, and many more attractive colors. The petals are also more substantial and have better lasting quality. Their dignity and remarkable colors place them distinctly in a class by themselves. They are of rich pastel shades and gorgeous blendings of purple, bronze, violet, old-gold, buff, and maroon not found in other Tulips. Many of them are sweet scented and make splendid cut flowers. Blooming period May 1 to June 1.

Botanical or Species Tulips and Their Hybrids

"The Indispensable Miniature Tulips" for Permanent Planting

The following collection of Botanical Tulips includes a great number of beautiful and interesting varieties, which show a bewildering variation of size and shape of flowers, structure of leaves, habits, etc. The only thing they have in common is the fact that they grow wild in some part of the world—Asia Minor, Central Asia, Greece, the Mediterranean. Cultivation has not modified them and they may be planted in the rock garden between creeping plants or in colonies in small, warm nooks, a situation where the larger-flowered garden Tulips would be out of place. Blooming period April 1 to late May.

Fragrant HYACINTHS from Holland for Your Garden

The popular Dutch Hyacinths with their rich fragrance fill an important place in the early spring garden. As formal bedding plants they have few equals. They also provide desirable and striking color masses in the foreground of shrub borders as well as in the perennial garden—in fact, wherever an early spot of color is desired. Plant them informally in drifts and they will scent the spring garden as no other plant can do.

The following 12 varieties are the finest obtainable in their color classes. The size we are offering for outdoor planting is 15 to 16 cm., which is ideal for the average garden.

New Low Prices!

Any of the following, 6 for $1.50; 12 for $2.75; 25 for $5.25; $18.75 per 100

City of Haarlem. Well-formed trusses of pale yellow bells.

Grand Maitre. Deep lavender. Long, compact spikes of large bells on strong stems.

Jan Bos. Carmine-red, tinted scarlet; lighter center. Recommended for early forcing.

Lady Derby. Large, compact trusses of clear rose-pink. Good for forcing and bedding. Early.

La Victoire. Shiny carmine-red with large, well-filled spikes. A brilliant color.

L'Innocence. The most satisfactory all-round pure white. Compact spikes with large bells. Does well anywhere.

Marie. The most satisfactory of the dark blue shades. Late flowering, excellent for bedding.

Perle Brilliant. Light blue, tinged lavender. Splendid spikes of large, substantial bells.

Pink Pearl. Vivid rose with strong curled bells. Large spike; strong stem. Excellent for early forcing.

Princess Margaret. A very fine novelty. The clear soft pink flower is large and perfectly formed. One of the best pinks in both size and color.

Queen of the Blues. Light porcelain-blue; large, well-formed trusses.

Queen of the Pinks. Trusses broad and large, with good-sized pink bells and strong stems.

Hyacinths are of easy culture. Plant the bulbs 5 to 6 inches deep in any good rich garden soil. The lighter the texture of the soil, the better they will do. If fertilizer is used, dig it in well so that it becomes thoroughly mixed with the earth and does not come directly in contact with the bulbs. A light mulch over winter is essential, particularly in the very cold parts of the country. Almost any kind of material you have available will be all right—peat moss, pine branches, etc.

If you prefer, you may order Hyacinths by color. These bulbs are 15 to 16 cm., the ideal size for outdoor planting.

FRENCH ROMAN HYACINTHS

Early Roman Hyacinths, with graceful spikes of fragrant white flowers, are among the earliest of all winter-flowering bulbs. They may be placed in ornamental bowls, using bulb fiber as a filler, which only needs to be kept continually moist, and in which the bulbs thrive and bloom luxuriantly. These are for indoor culture only, and not for the garden. Available in Pink, White, Blue.

NARCISSUS — DAFFODILS

Narcissus are among the earliest spring-flowering bulbs and as such are most welcome. Their gay yellow and white, and cream and orange blooms seem to be the very essence of the new season. It is well to plant them where they will have shrubs or evergreens as a background. Smaller kinds are very effective in the rock garden, and for a superb spring picture there is nothing to surpass a large planting of naturalized Narcissus.

These bulbs are very hardy and may be left in the ground undisturbed for several seasons. They need a well-drained location. Plant the bulbs 4 to 5 inches deep, as early as possible in the fall. Smaller and fewer flowers after a few years indicate that the bulbs need to be dug up and replanted.

STERNBERGIA LUTEA.

This interesting and beautiful fall-blooming bulb resembles the Autumn Crocus but produces much larger blooms on sturdy, 6 to 8-inch stems. The flowers are rich, brilliant yellow. Unlike the Autumn Crocus and Colchicum, which it resembles in blooms, Sternbergia has the advantage of developing its graceful foliage shortly before it blooms, adding to the beauty of the richly textured flowers which come forth about the middle of September. Hardy and permanent in the garden. Plant the bulbs about 6 inches deep in a well-drained, sunny location. In the northern states give light protection over winter. Bulbs should be planted early, therefore send your order as soon as possible. 3 for $1.10; 6 for $1.95; 12 for $3.50.

ONCOCYCLUS AND REGELIA IRIS

These remarkable and little-known Irises are perfectly hardy in our coldest winter weather. They should be allowed to die down after they have finished flowering, for they require a period of rest. This is accomplished by withholding all moisture throughout the entire summer. Given this treatment, they flower profusely. Or they may be dug up in July and stored in dry peat or dry sand for the summer and replanted in October. The best soil is a combination of ordinary garden soil with a liberal percentage of peat and some bonemeal for fertilizer. The extra care given them is worth while because these lovely flowers are the equal of orchids in beauty.

Culture. Plant the bulbs about 6 inches deep in well-drained soil. If the ground is heavy, it is advisable to put some sand under each bulb. Well-rotted manure worked into the soil between them is about all the food they need, with the exception of a light application of commercial fertilizer in early spring. Work it into the soil and then water well, just as soon as growth appears. Be sure to keep the fertilizer away from the foliage.

All bulbs are large size, sure to bloom well this next summer

EREMURUS (Foxtail Lilies)

True aristocrats of the garden are the Eremurus or Foxtail Lilies. Coming as they do from the desert region of Turkestan, these Desert Candles are always objects of curiosity in American gardens. They are hardy and dependable, making a spectacular show from late May through June, and they come back year after year. Plant 6 inches deep in rich, porous, loamy soil. They require sunny, well-drained locations. They are best planted in the fall, and then mulched over winter with straw or any other material of similar nature. The flower spikes, often 6 or more feet tall, rise like great asparagus tips from a mass of yucca-like foliage. The roots multiply rapidly, and clumps of Desert Candles make an imposing mass in the shrubby border or the perennial garden. The foliage disappears after the flowers, and annuals may be planted close to them to fill the vacant space. They are much more effective when planted in groups of not less than three, and more whenever possible. It is no wonder these plants are expensive when you consider that it takes five years to grow one to blooming size. Those we offer are five years old or more, and are of blooming size.

SHELFORD HYBRIDS

Probably the most beautiful strain. Pastel shades—coppery pink, orange, pale yellow, pink, etc.—excellent for the garden and as cut flowers. These grow to an average height of 6 feet and make a stunning show in the garden, as well as indoors when cut, lasting two to three weeks in water.

AMARYLLIS

AMARYLLIS HYBRIDS

Nothing will give the amateur greater pleasure than Amaryllis for growing in the house as well as in the garden. These giant-flowering bulbs produce magnificent blossoms with the least possible care and trouble. Planted in a pot in the early winter, they will bloom in about six to eight weeks. Bulbs may be kept dormant and planted a week or ten days apart, so as to produce a succession of bloom throughout the entire winter. In the garden they may be planted during March, April and May, depending upon locality, and they will bloom during June and July as easily as Gladiolus. The bulbs throw a vigorous stem with four to six gigantic blooms, ranging in color from pure white with varied markings of rose, red and crimson to the richest self colors such as scarlet, crimson and bright red. From November until April we can supply bulbs guaranteed to bloom.

Helleborus niger

PLEASE NOTE

As we have mentioned before, we don't like to "toot our own horn," but we can't keep from doing it when we receive such comment as this from Emma M. Ulrich, 2243 Bakewell Street, Toledo, Ohio: "I just can't help telling you how pleased I am with the roses, mums, etc., that you sent me on my order last fall. The tulips and lilies and hyacinths were gorgeous and the envy of my neighbors. Believe me, when I order anything further it will be from your company. The cost is a little more but the results are amazing."

BEARDED IRIS (Also Known as German Iris)

These are perhaps the best-known Iris in cultivation and have been grown for generations. However, in the past several years so much work has been done on this group that we now have improved varieties of gigantic size in many clear, beautiful colors and shades of breath-taking beauty.

These Iris are of easy culture and do well in practically any kind of soil. They are often naturalized on banks and along roadsides, and are excellent for making a brilliant show when planted in small or large groups in the perennial border or in front of and among shrubbery. It is best to divide and replant every second or third year. This should be done between the middle of July and the middle of September. We strongly recommend that all the leaves be cleared off in the fall and burned. By doing this you will destroy the borer eggs and eliminate this insect that usually attacks Iris roots in the summer.

The best time to plant these Iris is from late July to mid-October. However, later fall and early spring plantings are often successful.

The height mentioned is the average but this may vary somewhat in different parts of the country and in different types of soil. Standard means the three flower petals which rise upward; falls are the three flower petals falling downward.

The list offered here is of selected top-notch varieties—the best of the new and the old.

Any 3 for $1.25; any 6 for $2.25; any 12 for $4.00; any 25 for $7.00; any 100 for $25.00; 50c each, except where noted

Oriental or Japanese Iris (Iris Kaempferi)

The Oriental Iris, with their huge picturesque blooms and graceful gladiolus-like foliage, are among the most beautiful of the great Iris family. Then too, they come into bloom at a time when other Iris are past, starting the latter part of June and continuing well into July. They are extremely showy in the garden and excellent as cut flowers for the home.

Oriental Iris are easily grown in any good average garden soil which is fairly rich and has good drainage. Divide the plants every three or four years, early in the spring or in September and October. Their average height is 2 to 3 feet.

The Siberian Iris have much smaller flowers than Bearded and Oriental Iris but what they lack in size they make up in grace of flower and foliage. They are very hardy and grow well in almost any kind of soil, though a moist location is preferred. Well adapted for naturalizing along streams, among shrubs or in perennial plantings.

PEONIES

The World's Finest Varieties

Peonies are long-lived plants that do not require transplanting unless they show signs of deterioration. For that reason it is worth while to be particular about the place where they are to be planted. Choose a sunny location that gets good drainage. Dig deep, and use some well-rotted cow manure or a commercial fertilizer to enrich the soil. Bonemeal is also recommended.

The best months for setting out Peonies are September and October. Be careful not to place them too deep, for deep planting may keep them from blooming. The eyes should be only 2 inches below the soil surface. A Bordeaux mixture spray will control diseases that occasionally attack Peonies.

The varieties offered here are the very finest in their class, and in the double-flowered group only the highest rated varieties are offered. The plants offered are strong, 3 to 5-eye, healthy plants and should give excellent results.

DOUBLE PEONIES

These are the large, double-flowered Peonies of our gardens that everybody knows and loves. Only top-notch varieties are offered. The blooming period is May and June.

Tree or Bush Peonies

This famous group is the shrub type. The stems do not die to the ground each year as the herbaceous Peonies do, and in the course of many years they will reach the height of 3 to 4 feet. Most varieties bloom in early spring—late April to the end of May, depending on the locality. They are of easy culture and grow anywhere other Peonies do. It is best, however, to plant them where they are sheltered from sweeping winds.

Argosy. Single; pure yellow. $11.50 each.

SENSATIONAL NEW DOUBLE POPPY, SALMON GLOW

Oriental Poppies

Oriental Poppies, with their brilliant gigantic blooms, are among the very finest perennials for the garden, particularly now that soft pastel tints are available, ranging from the softest of pink to deep red and white. They are easily grown and once established will live for many years. The best time to plant them is September and October. Poppies should be planted deeper than the general run of perennials. Set the crowns approximately 2 inches below the level of the ground. Mulch the first winter after planting with excelsior, pine branches, or other material of similar nature. This mulch should not be applied until the ground is frozen, possibly November to December, depending on the locality. The plants offered here are strong, field-grown specimens and should bloom satisfactorily next year. Order now.

HEMEROCALLIS (DAYLILY)

*Indicates alpine or rock plants; with few exceptions these plants are also ideal for broad masses in the foreground of your perennial border or for edging. ‡ Indicates varieties which are useful for cutting.

The hybridizers have wrought wonders with the old-fashioned Daylily. The improvements include a wider color-range, an extended period of bloom, larger flowers, and sturdier plants. What is more, Hemerocallis are amazing in their adaptability; they are extremely hardy and will thrive under the most ordinary conditions, blooming in full sun or partial shade. Their vigor is especially evident in dry seasons and insect pests have little effect on them.

FLORIBUNDA ROSES

These are bush Roses producing clusters of bloom without interruption from early summer until late frosts. They are all very easy to grow and exceptionally hardy. Besides using them in beds, plant Floribundas in the foreground of shrub borders. As a hedge, they are a fine substitute for privet and barberry.

Plant Floribundas 15 to 18 inches apart and prune lightly to the desired height, removing old flower clusters and thinning out dead wood. They grow 2 to 2½ feet tall.

See page 25 of our 1949 Spring Catalog for full description and several color illustrations of Floribundas.
